Section One - General Information

The Saskatchewan Liquor and Gaming Authority (SLGA), a corporate body created by law, issues permits for the possession, sale, importation and delivery of recreational cannabis. Cannabis producers that are licensed federally to package and sell plants, seeds, and finished cannabis products to provincial wholesalers and retailers (LPs) must register with SLGA in order to supply cannabis to Saskatchewan businesses.

Eligibility

Only LPs that hold a federal processing licence to package and sell finished cannabis products can register to make wholesale sales to Saskatchewan permitted wholesalers and retailers. This registration is required whether the LP is located in Saskatchewan or elsewhere in Canada.

If you plan to establish a cannabis warehouse in Saskatchewan that is separate from any federally licensed production facility, you must hold a Cannabis Wholesale Permit instead of an LP Registration. Application forms for this permit are available on SLGA's website.

Registrations are not site-specific and cannabis can be shipped from any licensed site owned by the registration or owned by a company affiliated with the registered company subject to the requirements of the applicable federal licenses. Companies are considered affiliated if they satisfy the definition of 'affiliate' as defined by the Canada Business Corporations Act. For example, multiple licensed sites with a common parent company require only a single registration. If you think this applies to you, please reach out to cannabisinquiries@slga.com before applying.

LPs applying must share product records through GS1's ECCnet service at the consumer or base level. Registrations will not be issued until these records have been shared with SLGA. Once the registration has been issued the LP will be responsible for ensuring that records in ECCnet at the consumer or base level for all products sold into the Saskatchewan recreational cannabis market are shared with SLGA.

Once issued, for the registration to remain in good standing the LP must submit monthly reports documenting their sales to Saskatchewan cannabis permittees. Monthly reports are due by the 15th of the following month and must be submitted through SLGA portal in the prescribed format.

Before your business is registered, SLGA will contact you to ensure that you have the capacity to meet monthly reporting requirements. You can also find more information about the format and content of the required reports at www.slga.com/permits-and-licences/cannabis-permits/wholesale-cannabis-permits.

Cannabis beverage containers are subject to the existing beverage container program rules in Saskatchewan. It is the responsibility of the 'importer' to register new containers before they are sold. Entities registering the beverage containers will also need to be licensed by the Ministry of Finance and submit monthly returns and remittances based on the number of containers sold each month. Consumers can return empty cannabis beverage containers to local recycling depots as they would any other beverage containers.

Beverage containers can be registered through SARCAN:
https://www.sarc.ca/pages/register_new_beverages.html

Monthly returns and payments can be submitted to the Ministry of Finance, additional information can be found here:
<https://www.saskatchewan.ca/business/taxes-licensing-and-reporting/provincial-taxes-policies-and-bulletins/beverage-container-program>

Fee schedule

A non-refundable application fee of $550 applies. In addition to the application fee, the permit is subject to an annual registration fee of $1,650.

The registration is issued for three years. Applicants can pay the fee in annual installments due at the time the registration is issued and on each anniversary date thereafter, or can pay the full three year fee at the time the registration is issued.

Processing time

SLGA recommends that applicants allow at least 30 days for processing. Several factors may contribute to the time needed to issue the registration, including:

- Any incomplete, missing, or incorrect information on the application, and
- Configuration of inventory tracking and reporting systems, followed by SLGA confirmation

Applying for an LP registration does not guarantee approval. Any business arrangements completed prior to confirmation of registration eligibility are at your own risk.

For further information or help completing this application, please email cannabisinquiries@slga.com You can also call SLGA toll-free at 1(800) 667-7565 or in Regina at (306) 787-5563.
